

SPARE PARTS SUPPLY

In our newsletter of June we would like to remind all our customers that, in case you need to order some spare parts, you can check and download the documentation from our website www.cormachsrl.com making the service more efficient and faster.

The spare parts list together with the operator's manual, a data-sheet and the list of accessories are available in the article page.

Please note that you are allowed to carry out the documentation download only if you are registered in our website.

Customers already registered:

you can download the documents after entering the Login Area, and inserting Username and Password

Customers not yet registered:

Register your company just by entering the Login Area, then select Register and fill in the form. After that you will receive a first e-mail with the confirmation of your username and password, and a second message confirming your account starting.

In case you wish to place orders for spare parts we kindly ask you to let us know the following:

- Spare part code
- Model of the equipment and correspondent serial number in order to avoid any possible mistake
