

PUMA

Today Cormach presents a new product that consolidates the automatic tyre changer evolution.

This new equipment features the modern technology without the use of the traditional lever. The usual procedures and habitual movements remain the same but the operator's effort and the risk connected to the rim damages, even if minimal, are completely eliminated. In addition, the working time is significantly reduced on all kind of tyres.

PUMA is an article that stands directly in competition with top range tyre changers by turning the attention of the professional users.

It represents a quantum leap for those users who are already professionals with our products and a quantum leap for Cormach itself who has been investing in new projects and realizes its ideas with great enthusiasm.

We invite you to have a look at our website where, beside the standard documentation, you can watch the demo-video of this new equipment.

The PUMA will be also displayed at our Booth no. F75 in Hall 8.0 during the next Automechanika Frankfurt!
